

SCAD Savannah Film Festival

SAVANNAH COLLEGE OF ART AND DESIGN, OCT. 26-NOV. 2

This was Olivia Wilde's second time at the fest, having first made the trip with 2015's "Meadowland." This time, she was back to accept the Rising Star Director Award for her directorial debut, "Booksmart." "This is a community that loves movies and really believes in the process and really respects the process," Wilde said. "I want to thank this festival for supporting and acknowledging my efforts as an actor, a producer and now as a director." "Booksmart" star Beanie Feldstein was one of this year's Breakout Award honorees. "The festival is really special," she told Variety. "It's a beautiful energy to be around."
